

Creating a culture of security at your organization can be time-consuming, costly and complex. While not all companies require the same level of expensive security controls, every company must maintain a level of security that will make it less likely a target of a security breach. Educating your staff is imperative to fostering a security culture and minimizes the number of mistakes that could result in a breach.

Why does your organization need Security Awareness Training?

Periodic security awareness training is by far the most effective measure to put in place that will reduce your company's susceptibility to phishing and other types of cybersecurity attacks. Most compromises start with a click of a mouse so it's important that your organization takes the time to educate your staff members about security.

What's Included in our Aware Care Training Package?

- Quarterly testing of end users
- Quarterly training modules
- Quarterly reporting of end user security training results

Add On: For an additional cost, our security team will conduct an in-person security awareness training at your site

EXCELLENCE IN IT DELIVERY

Technology is critical to operating a business. The use of technology enables businesses to grow faster and operate more profitably. Because of constrained budgets and challenges in accessing IT talent, small and mid-sized organizations often think they must settle for something less than great. Enter Winxnet—we bring IT excellence to organizations of all sizes.

Winxnet Transforms the Delivery of IT with:

Expertise - A lot goes into an IT environment. Winxnet provides the right people to keep your environment productive and efficient.

Access & Availability - You can't schedule an emergency. We have guaranteed response times that work for the needs of your business.

Security - The security landscape is constantly changing. We have the team and experts to help with all of your security needs.